Chapter Overview

Why Chapters Need

CrewCore

Recruiting and managing officials is often fragmented, manual, and difficult to track.

CrewCore gives chapter leaders one connected system from prospect capture to active official.

What's inside

The problem, the pipeline, live command center views, automation, and a chapter-focused demo path.

 THE PROBLEM

Why Chapters Need CrewCore

Recruiting and managing officials is often fragmented, manual, and difficult to track. Most chapters rely on spreadsheets, group texts, and disconnected email threads — leaving prospects lost in the process and chapter leaders guessing.

Difficulty Attracting New Officials

No centralized channel to reach prospects. Word-of-mouth doesn't scale, and digital outreach is inconsistent across chapters.

No Consistent Recruiting Pipeline

Every chapter leader manages differently. Without a shared system, there's no standardized process from first contact to active official.

Limited Visibility Into Status

Chapter leaders can't easily see where each recruit stands. Prospects fall through the cracks between interest and onboarding.

Manual Follow-Up and Disconnected Onboarding

Reminders are sent ad hoc. Onboarding steps aren't tracked. The result is a slow, leaky funnel that loses promising officials.

The CrewCore Recruitment Pipeline

CrewCore brings structure to the entire officiating recruitment lifecycle — from a prospect's first click to their first game assignment. Every stage is intentional, trackable, and chapter-managed.

01 — Recruit

Attract prospects through digital campaigns, chapter landing pages, and targeted outreach across social and community channels.

02 — Connect

Route each prospect automatically to the right chapter or chapter leader based on sport, region, or availability — no manual sorting required.

03 — Onboard

Guide officials through required certifications, forms, orientation scheduling, and next-step actions in one structured, trackable flow.

04 — Track

Give chapter leaders real-time visibility into status, progress, follow-up needs, and conversion rates across their entire prospect pool.

Chapter Command Center

Real-time visibility for chapter leaders — every prospect, every status, every follow-up need, all in one place.

Smarter Follow-Up and Communication

Automate the next step without losing the human connection. CrewCore's communication layer ensures no prospect goes cold and no chapter leader burns out on manual outreach.

Automated Email & SMS Follow-Up

Triggered sequences reach out to prospects at the right moment — after sign-up, after inactivity, or before key deadlines — all configured by the chapter.

Bot-Assisted Qualification

An intelligent intake chatbot screens new prospects, collects availability and sport preference, and routes them to the appropriate chapter leader instantly.

Reminder Workflows & Next Best Action

CrewCore surfaces actionable nudges: who needs a call, who's stalled in onboarding, and what the highest-priority follow-up is — right inside the dashboard.

Orientation Scheduling

Recruits receive a direct scheduling link to book their orientation session. No back-and-forth emails. No missed appointments. Just a smooth, professional experience.

Why CrewCore Works for Chapters

Organized recruiting, clearer onboarding, stronger growth — CrewCore delivers the infrastructure chapters have always needed but rarely had access to.

Built for Local Chapters

Designed around how chapter leaders actually work — not a generic CRM adapted for officiating. Every feature reflects the recruiting and onboarding realities of local associations.

Standardized Recruiting Pipeline

Every chapter runs the same proven pipeline — from prospect capture to active official — ensuring consistency, scalability, and measurable results across your association.

Better Visibility and Follow-Up

No more guessing. Chapter leaders see exactly where each official stands, who needs attention, and what the next action is — in real time, from any device.

Professional Growth Infrastructure

CrewCore positions your chapter as a modern, credible organization — one that attracts serious candidates and retains officials through a structured, supportive experience.

"CrewCore gives chapter leaders a better way to manage recruiting — from first interest to active official — all in one organized, professional system."
